President Wilson Absent, Congress Not in Session, the Day Was One of Quiet in Washington—Varied Program in New York—Suffragists March to the Statue of Liberty.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, July 5.—This city's official celebration of Independence day today comprised an unusually varied list of events ranging from ceremonies and speech-making in City Hall park to patriotic exercises by scores of neighborhood organizations in different sections of the city, the unfurling of a huge flag in Broadway, numerous memorial exercises and athletic contests.

Features of the afternoon and evening program were the Americanization day meeting in the stadium of the College of the City of New York where thousands of immigrants admitted to citizenship here within the last year were to be addressed by federal and state representatives and numerous suffrage meetings and dancing fetes in the streets.

The Americanization day celebration was a part of the general plan, approved by President Wilson to hold similar meetings today throughout the country.

The most notable of the suffragists' demonstration was the journey to the Statue of Liberty, planned for late this afternoon, when 100 suffrage leaders were to listen to the reading of a woman's appeal directed to the men of New York and protesting against political discrimination against women. This was also read at a large number of street meetings conducted by suffragists. Tonight the women had planned a procession with floats in Riverside Drive, culminating in a mass meeting.

In more than a hundred athletic centers schoolboys and girls contested for prizes.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, O., July 5.—"Americanization day" was observed here in connection with the holiday celebration today, the program in this regard embracing a reception to newly naturalized citizens, followed by patriotic exercises, athletics, concerts and fireworks displays in city parks. "Americanization day" begins with a public reception to new citizens at 10 a. m. New citizens will have seats of honor on the platform. Among the speakers will be Mayor Newton D. Baker, United States Senator Atlee Pomeroy of Canton, and former Ambassador Myron T. Herrick. Common Pleas Judge Manuel Levine will welcome the new citizens on behalf of the National Americanization day committee. The Rt. Rev. Mgr. Thomas O'Reilly will offer a prayer for world peace.

Americans In Mexico City In Charge of Relief Work; Expect to Stop Starvation

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, July 5.—With American Consul General Shanklin and Charles J. O'Connor in Mexico City in charge of relief measures undertaken by the Red Cross with the aid of the United States government, officials today expected that they would set in motion steps to assist the famine-stricken population of that city. In reporting the arrival of Shanklin and O'Connor in the Mexican capital, American Consul Silliman said that they took "light supplies" with them. The fact that the two men carried light supplies is believed to

HOLT MAY BE LONG WANTED WIFE-SLAYER

EFFORTS DIRECTED TO IDENTIFY HIM AS A FORMER HARVARD INSTRUCTOR

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, July 5.—Efforts were made here, at Glencove, L. I., and in several other cities today to clear up the mystery said to surround the identity of Frank Holt, who on Saturday attempted to assassinate J. P. Morgan. Federal detectives throughout the country were following up clues which they hoped would reveal the chief events in his life.

One of the important questions which they had to solve was that raised by the police of Cambridge, Mass., regarding possible identification of Holt as Erich Muentner, a former Harvard instructor who disappeared from that city after the death of his wife from alleged poisoning in 1906. Statements from relatives of Muentner and men who knew him as a student in Chicago comparing descriptions of Holt with their recollections of Muentner were read with interest by the detectives working on the case. Photographs of Muentner were compared with those of Holt.

Until a late hour last night, Holt was questioned by police officials from New York and Washington. Major Pullman, superintendent of the Washington police, the last of the inquirers endeavored to locate the

Charles Athey Arrested On Suspicion Of Shooting Officer Boscowan Last Thursday; Two Bullet Wounds In Leg; Relative Held

The condition of Walter Boscowan, the police officer who was shot last Friday morning, is very satisfactory, and the attendants feel hopeful for his recovery. Mr. Boscowan was resting comfortably Monday.

Charles Athey, 22 years old, living with his mother at 59 South Fourth street, (rear) was arrested about 5:30 o'clock Saturday evening and is held at the county jail under care of a physician. He will be charged with burglarizing the Wyeth-Scott office last Friday morning and with far more serious charge of shooting with intent to kill Officer Boscowan at the same time and place.

room that Holt occupied while in Washington before exploding the bomb in the capitol was unable to do so.

It was in the course of the examination by several police officials that Holt disclosed his plan, entertained when he entered the Morgan home, to hold Mrs. J. P. Morgan and the Morgan children as hostages in their own home or to kill them if Mr. Morgan refused to use his influence to stop the exportation of war munitions.

Dispatches received here from Dallas, Texas stated that the Rev. O. F. Sensabaugh, Holt's father-in-law, had taken steps toward engaging Martin W. Littleton as counsel for Holt but Mr. Littleton said he had not received such a request.

Mr. Morgan's condition, according to the latest official bulletin, issued last night, continued to be most favorable, and the physicians attending him had stated that the bullets from Holt's revolver did not penetrate Mr. Morgan's abdomen.

LIGHTNING HITS HOUSE AND WOMAN WAS UNCONSCIOUS.

When lightning struck the home of John Davis in Hoover street during the storm Sunday night, Mrs. Davis was rendered unconscious by the shock and she was restored to consciousness after a physician and members of the family worked with her nearly three hours. The house was damaged by the bolt which struck the chimney. Other members of the family were not injured.

COMES TO MEET SON.
Amos Brown, of the Brown & Davis Stock company at Chillicothe, made a hurry trip to Newark, Saturday, to get acquainted with a new son, which came to his home here, 159 South Fifth street. The youngster was born Saturday.

Athey is suffering from two bullet wounds in his left leg. Surgeons Sunday recovered a ball which remained in one of the wounds and the bullet is the same calibre and of the same peculiar variety as that used in the pistol of the wounded police officer. After being wounded by the yegs who entered the Wyeth-Scott office, Boscowan fired five times at the fleeing men and Police Chief Sheridan is satisfied that at least two of the officer's bullets found lodgment in Athey's legs.

Athey was arrested on a hunch. A quiet tip came to the police department that there was an invalid in the Athey home. An investigation quietly conducted, developed that Athey was brought to the home of his father in the rear of the Hickey building last Friday morning about 3 o'clock. He was unable to walk and was assisted to the house. The shooting in the office of the Wyeth-Scott company occurred about 2 o'clock Friday morning.

The police also learned that on Friday night a tawdry removal Athey from his father's house to the home of his mother. A watch was kept on the Athey home all day Saturday and it was the intention to delay the arrest until late Saturday night in the hope of capturing Athey's companions, if he was with the would be saboteurs.

But Police Chief Sheridan feared some hitch in the program might result in Athey's escape and at 5 o'clock he detailed Officers Swineheart, Abbott and Donley to go to the house and find out what they could. Athey's mother told Officer Swineheart that Henry Athey, a brother, was ill with fever. The officer reported and was further instructed to personally investigate the sick room and determine if possible whether the man was wounded. The officer found Charles Athey in bed and upon removing the bed coverings found the man's left leg

J. P. Morgan Out of All Danger But Would-be Assassin Holt Is a Wreck And Questioning Was Abandoned

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Glencove, N. Y., July 5.—J. P. Morgan, who was shot twice by Frank Holt last Saturday, is out of all danger. His physicians so notified his family this morning. Mr. Morgan's pulse was normal, his temperature was normal and he passed a restful night.

Holt, the would-be assassin on the other hand, was so weak today that when his keepers went to his cell to arouse him he could not sit up on his couch. Unless his condition improves rapidly—and there seemed no reason to expect so radical a change—it will be impossible for him to be taken into court for examination next Wednesday.

All plans to submit Holt to a further questioning today were abandoned because of his serious condition.

Dr. Guy Cleghorn, the jail physician, was summoned early to Holt's cell. The physician examined Holt thoroughly and found that his injuries were greater than at first thought. Extreme weakness seemed to be the chief feature of Holt's disposition. This was due, Dr. Cleghorn said, to the great quantity of blood which Holt had lost from the wound over his eye.

Two stitches had been taken in this wound, but the flow of blood was not entirely checked. When the wound was dressed today it still evinced a tendency to bleed and all possible efforts were made to prevent a further loss of blood. In addition, Holt sustained a black eye, his shoulder was severely wrenched, and he was struck a powerful blow in the stomach which left a mark that had turned black and blue.

"Holt is very sick," Dr. Cleghorn said, "sick physically and mentally. He is apparently exhausted and is unable to answer questions."

Sheriff Griffenhagen of New York county, came here today to question the prisoner. He stayed only a short time in Holt's cell. When he left the jail, the sheriff said that he did not see how Holt could be taken into court next Wednesday, the day to which his examination was adjourned last Saturday.

With the knowledge that his wounds were less grave than the doctors had first feared, Mr. Morgan rested comfortably at his home, East Isle, during the night, awoke much refreshed and seemed cheerful. X-ray examination of yesterday had dispelled fears that one of the two bullets had entered the abdomen or shattered the bone. Both bullets passed through the muscles of the hip and out through his clothing. The only possible danger, it was asserted, was from blood poisoning, and this grew less with each succeeding hour.

The physicians, therefore, felt justified in telling Mr. Morgan's family after their examination of him today that he was out of all danger. One of the things that Sheriff Griffenhagen wanted to clear up, if possible, was whether Holt had been involved in the alleged murder of Mrs. Erich Muentner in 1906.

Muentner disappeared from Harvard university after his wife had died, it was charged, of poisoning. He was never found. Former acquaintances of Muentner in Chicago have asserted that pictures of Holt showed marked resemblance to the man they knew as Muentner. These pictures of Holt, taken after the shooting of Mr. Morgan, showed him with a bandage over his head and this, it was said, somewhat handicapped their efforts to identify him positively.

There were also, it was said, many striking similarities in the known history of Holt and that of Muentner, and in addition, many points yet to be told the police about Holt's life. One of these points, it was said, related to Holt's whereabouts in 1906, the year of the alleged murder.

Sheriff Griffenhagen questioned Holt closely as to this. When Holt answered, it was to deny vigorously and emphatically that he was Erich Muentner. He did not know Muentner, he said, and had nothing to do with the murder of Mrs. Muentner.

"Where were you in 1906?" Sheriff Griffenhagen persisted. Holt made him repeat the question several times.

To Finance the Purchase in This Country and Canada of War Munitions for England's Use—Steamer St. Louis Arrives Safely—Plans Not Yet Ready For Publication.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, July 5.—The American line steamer St. Louis arrived here today from Liverpool. She was escorted down the English Channel by two torpedo boat destroyers to a distance west of Daunt's Rock, probably owing to the presence on board of Mr. D. A. Thomas, the British capitalist and coal operator. Thomas comes here to supervise and expedite the production of munitions for the allies.

The two destroyers remained with the St. Louis two days and nights, it was said, and did not leave her till the war zone was cleared.

When the St. Louis docked here, Mr. Thomas was met at the pier by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador to the United States, and William D. Straight, of the J. P. Morgan & Co. Mr. Thomas was accompanied on the trip across by his wife, his niece, Miss Jameson; his secretary, R. H. Carr, and two business associates, V. Lloyd Owen and R. H. Mahon. One of Mr. Morgan's yachts lay close to the pier, its name not being distinguishable through the pouring rain, ready to take Mr. Thomas and his party aboard.

"I have come to America prepared for an indefinite stay," Mr. Thomas said. "I may stay till the end of the war, and I don't know how long that will be. It looks as if the war might last a long time. But no matter how long it lasts there can be but one ending—Germany must be defeated, and will be."

"My business in the United States and Canada—I expect to go to Canada very soon—is to co-operate with Mr. Morgan's firm and arms in Canada in the purchase of munitions of war for England. In this connection I want to say that there has been no criticism of the manner in which Mr. Morgan has fulfilled his contracts. What criticism there has been was chiefly in Canada and was to the effect that Canada had not been favored so much in the award of contracts as the United States."

Mr. Thomas said he did not care to comment on the latter subject. His immediate plans, he added, were not yet ripe for publication, but embraced a trip to Canada within the near future.

News of the attempt to assassinate J. P. Morgan had been received aboard the ship. "It gave us all a feeling of nervousness," Mr. Thomas said.

PRICE EXPLAINS HIS RETIREMENT

Lifts Veil From Management of Ohio State University—Places Blame on Thompson—Retiring Dean Tells Farmers How Politics is Responsible for Part of Trouble—Willis Wing, Noted Alfalfa Man, Says Agricultural Students are Discriminated Against by University Management.

Columbus, July 5.—The fact that farmers of Ohio are commencing to take an increased interest in the affairs of the college of agriculture of Ohio State university, and not only of the college in particular, but of the university in general, as a result of what has come to be known as "the Dean Price case," is being more and more impressed on official circles in Columbus. This interest is crystallizing into what promises to be a concerted demand for a larger farmer representation on the board of trustees of the university, which demand has just been voiced to Governor Willis in an open letter, published in the Ohio State Journal, from Willis O. Wing of Mechanicsburg.

Ohio State university was founded as a college of agriculture, but that fact seemed to have been overlooked by university authorities until Dean Price took charge of the college about twelve years ago. It was not until that time that the college of agriculture commenced to grow. Dean Price did not content himself with working only in the schoolroom, with the 200 or 300 boys then in attendance at the college. Instead he worked both inside and outside the schoolroom; he fought for the college day in and day out, until last school year the number of students under him was more than 1,200 and the college occupied third place of all such colleges in the country.

Dean Price even went so far as to go to the legislature to tell members that the college was not getting the money which its growth demanded and he succeeded in getting $15,000 which was badly needed. For this he was called before the university trustees and scolded, and this was probably one of the reasons for the "friction" because of which Dean Price was demoted by the board this spring. Statements irreconcilable.

Dean Price's friends never accepted the explanations given for his dismissal, one being that while he was a good teacher, he did not possess the executive ability necessary in a dean. The dean's friends find it impossible to reconcile this statement with the known fact that the college, under Professor Price's management, has made such unprecedented strides in the educational world.

There is another explanation given which many friends of the university think more plausible. It has been stated from the university that there was talk about two years ago of demoting Dean Price and giving him a professorship. Now it was just about two years ago that under the leadership of Governor Cox the legislature passed the agricultural bill which placed all agricultural matters in the state under one board, in order to prevent a duplication of work and consequent duplication of expense without adequate return. This bill made the dean of the agricultural college a member of the state board of agriculture.

University authorities opposed this bill; and it is charged that at least a part of this opposition came from President Thompson, for the reason that he was somewhat miffed at the honor shown the dean of the agricultural college. It was his opinion, it was said, that if such honors were to be handed around at the university, the proper person to wear them would be the president, not the dean of one of the colleges. It is a coincidence, if nothing else, that this law was passed, and the talk of demoting Dean Price began, at about the same time.

If Dean Price's crime of getting $15,000 appropriated for agricultural college purposes was one of the causes of "friction" between him and Dr. Thompson—and it seems it was—an investigation of appropriations for university purposes by those interested mostly in the agricultural college reveals that there is need of some more friction of the same kind. Dr. Thompson does not seem to realize fully the farmers' interest in that college, nor the importance of that institution to the agricultural interests of the state, for in the letter written by Mr. Wing, previously referred to, the latter points out that the appropriations for the arts college are about twice the sum per capita that are given for the agricultural college.

"At first thought," says Mr. Wing, "you would say that the 'ag' student, since the paraphernalia used in his education is more expensive than in the college of arts, should receive more than the students at the art college per capita. Taking the years 1913 and 1914, I find that the appropriation for the college of agriculture was $82,000, with an enrollment of 1,234 students; that the appropriation of the university and its open encouragement of them to do so. This was particularly true in the agricultural extension work under the direction of Mr. Graham. The agricultural commission act provides that the agricultural commission shall have the direction and supervision of the extension work of the college of agriculture. Mr. Graham was opposed to the commission and refused to cooperate and to work with the commission and was encouraged in his course by the university authorities.

Coddling The Stomach

The So-Called "Scientific" Feeding.

In this 20th century of advancement, people are too apt to listen to new theories and put into practice new-fangled notions of feeding. Not only do adults follow so-called "scientific systems," but they cram down the mouths of their children such scientific soft foods that require no exercise of the digestive organs, and the children are apt to become fragile and their stomachs to weak to take in strength giving food and be able to assimilate it. This is a bothouse condition that no man woman or child should permit. The muscles of the stomach require exercise just as any other muscles of the body neglect them with too much ease and inaction and you raise a dyspeptic. Use a tonic made of medicinal herbs which will stimulate the stomach into greater activity—a remedy which will do this is one which has stood the test of public approval for over forty years containing no alcohol for narcotic. We refer to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It arouses the little muscular fibres into activity and causes the gastric juices to thoroughly mix with the food you eat, simply because it supplies the stomach with pure, rich blood. It's weak, impure blood that causes stomach weakness. Get good blood through the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and you will have no more indigestion. Sick People are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential.

B. F. McDONALD MAKING GOOD ON PLATFORM

Newark Lawyer Opens New Chautauqua Every Day in Northwest—Papers are Praising Him.

Hon. B. F. McDonald, who is at the present time touring the states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, and Louisiana, with the Vawter agency of the Redpath Bureau, has been meeting with an excellent reception at the different places where he was lectured.

At the present time Mr. McDonald is lecturing on "Moonshine" which has been pleasing all audiences. The following is an extract from the Daily Journal-Press, St. Cloud, Minn.:

"The real backbone of the program this afternoon was the lecture by Mr. B. F. McDonald of Ohio. Mr. McDonald has been heralded as a speaker of exceptional ability and he fully lived up to the standard set by his admirers. His address on 'Moonshine' fully vindicated the comments which had preceded his arrival. Other papers in Minnesota where Mr. McDonald is lecturing are speaking in the highest praise of his address. Mr. McDonald is one of the strongest of the Redpath-Vawter circuits and is occupying what is admittedly recognized as the most difficult place on the program, he being on for the afternoon of the first day. Mr. McDonald changes his location every 24 hours and speaks each afternoon in the opening of a new Chautauqua.

One Who Knows No Favor.

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Newark resident has withstood this sternest of all tests.

William H. Larason, 434 W. Main street Newark, says: "My back pained me terribly and I stooped, sharp twinges caught me across my joints and hips. The misery had to be double and I often had to put my hands on my knees in order to bend. Sometimes I felt as if I were going to topple over from dizziness and dark spots floated before my eyes, nearly blinding me. The action of my kidneys was irregular and I passed a lot of trouble. All is different now since I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They made a cure and it is lasting."

Children's Program and Junior Redpath Club Prominent Features of Chautauqua

Second Afternoon Will Mark Beginning of Series of Folk Tales and Dances For Juveniles.

GENERAL SUPERVISOR VISITS EACH TOWN.

Pennant to Be Awarded to Champion Club on Chautauqua Circuit This Season.

THIS city's boys and girls are enlisted in a championship contest conducted by the children's department of the Redpath Chautauqua. Following the visit of Mrs. Grace Cowan Tatum, general supervisor of this work, plans for a wide awake Junior Redpath Club will be carried out, and the officers of the club will see that the sessions begin promptly on the second afternoon of the Chautauqua.

Red and white are the colors adopted by the club, and each member will be for the young people. There will be stories and singing games for the younger children, stories and folk dances for the older children, games of action for playground and home, "hikes" and athletic work for the older boys. No boy or girl, regardless of age, will be forgotten.

Each day the young woman in charge of the children's department will appear in the costume of the country whose stories she will tell and whose folk dances she will teach. On the second afternoon of the Chautauqua she will take up Indian folk tales and folk dances, and on succeeding days she will explain in the order given Russian, Scandinavian, German, Japanese and English folk tales and folk dances. The afternoon hours will be devoted to serial and miscellaneous stories and to games of action.

Morning Sessions For Club. The morning sessions will be the meetings of the Junior Redpath club. Only boys and girls, aged from six to fourteen, wearing the official club button and holding children's season tickets, will be admitted to these meetings. The afternoon meetings will be free to all boys and girls.

On the second evening of the Chautauqua the "story girl" will explain briefly the plans for the week. On the fourth afternoon she will appear, following the usual program, for a lesson in the art of story telling. This is intended to be a practical talk for those desiring information regarding the working points in story telling. It is offered for the special benefit of school-teachers, Sunday school teachers and mothers. Lists of stories and books will be suggested, and stories will be told illustrating the points made in the lesson.

It has also been hinted that on the closing night of the Chautauqua there may be a thirty minute program by local children for the purpose of showing what has been accomplished in the junior department during Chautauqua week. In such case there will be singing games, folk dances, a story told by one of the children and a report by the president of the Junior Redpath Club.

Furthermore, at the end of the season an immense pennant with the wording, "Champion Junior Redpath Club—1915," will be awarded the chapter in that Chautauqua city having the best attendance and interest among children. SPENCER PRIEST KILLED BY TRAIN IN WOOD COUNTY

Word was received in this city Sunday morning that Spencer Priest, twenty-two years of age, and son of Mr. and Mrs. George Priest, of five miles north of Hanover, had been killed at Hoytville, O., while walking along the B. & O. tracks. Hoytville is a small village in Wood county west of Fostoria and a few miles east of Deshler.

The accident occurred Saturday night and young Priest was identified by an express receipt for a suitcase which had been shipped from Defiance to this city. Later Dr. W. L. Jackson, I. king county coroner, received a telegram from Coroner D. R. Splitter of Wood county, asking him to forward the suitcase back to Bloomdale, where the coroner resided. Dr. Jackson examined the suitcase and finding nothing but a few articles of wearing apparel in same, notified the Wood county official to that effect.

Later in the day two brothers of the unfortunate young man came to Newark and arranged with Criss Brothers to have the body shipped to this city. They stated that Spencer had been employed as a telegraph lineman at South Bend, Ind., and that he had written that he expected to pay a visit to his home in the near future. He is survived by his parents, four brothers, Lloyd, Roll, Park and Irwin, and two sisters, Mrs. Bessie Ford and Miss Nancy Priest. The body will be brought to this city at 10 o'clock tonight and taken to the Criss Brothers undertaking parlors in West Main street. Tuesday it will be taken to Smith Chapel, four miles north of Hanover, and funeral services will be held there at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in the church cemetery.

BIG PEACH CROP

Port Clinton, O., July 5.—There is no doubt but what the peach crop in northern Ohio will give all local people an opportunity of enjoying home grown fruit this year. Ottawa county alone is promising from 800,000 to 1,000,000 bushels of the Island fruit. This is to be the biggest harvest for this section, in the history of the fruit industry. While the shippers are predicting low prices, the growers are going to make money on account of the enormous crop.

According to the schedule of prizes, the grand prize is awarded only to exhibits considered 100 points excellent—or perfect. Next in distinction is the Medal of Honor; then the Gold Medal, the Silver Medal and Honorable Mention.

The Welsbach display is in the form of a bungalow, divided into several rooms, in which the principles of correct artificial lighting are exemplified. All the features of the exhibit are covered by the award, including gas mantles, cotton, ramic, and artifice, manufacturing materials for mantles, Reflex lights, inverted lamps for home use, inverted lamps for commercial use, gas lamps, the new C. OFFICERS HUNT BURGLARS BUT DIDN'T FIND ANY

A wagonload of police officers was rushed to the home of Mrs. Anna Grace Hatch, in Fifth street, between Church and Locust, Sunday night at 7 o'clock, in response to a telephone message that burglars were in the place. The officers were just ready to go to their districts when the call was received.

With drawn revolvers, the blue-coats were thrown about the house and Police Chief Sheridan, accompanied by a patrolman, went through the house from basement to attic. Nothing was disturbed and there was no indication that anyone had forced an entrance to the place. Mrs. Hatch was absent at the time and persons having apartments in the house heard noises which led them to believe that intruders were in Mrs. Hatch's rooms.

Dr. Williams, veterinarian, having offices and hospital in the alley in the rear of the home, saw two men enter the passageway at the rear of the house about the same time the call was received at headquarters. A careful search was made of the back yards in the vicinity but without finding trace of anyone.

3 LICKING MEN CAPTURE PRIZES AT EXPOSITION

Three Newark men—A. H. Powell, Thomas Adams and Frank King—have been awarded prizes in the agricultural exhibition at the Panama-Pacific exposition. All three gentlemen were awarded medals for the best corn on display in the Ohio booth. In addition, Mr. Powell received honorable mention for a sheaf of clover. Considering the hundreds of entries the Licking county men have a right to feel proud of their success.

Ohioans are flocking to the splendid building which the state has erected at the big exposition, and the daily registration is now 200. The total registrations of Buckeye citizens have exceeded 7000. All Ohioans are welcome and matrons and clerks are there to look after the comfort of the visitors.

C. W. MONTGOMERY ON AN INSPECTION TOUR OF LICKING

Editor of the Advocate: On July 1st I had the pleasure of accompanying Mr. Ballou on a trip of inspection to the Dr. William D. Porter orchard in Muskingum county. We traveled east on Zanesville road to Clay Lick, thence by way of the Stone File church and Farmer's Hill in Gratiot. From Gratiot over the old National road to Mt. Sterling. For this last distance the pleasure occurred when we got through, the road being in horrible shape.

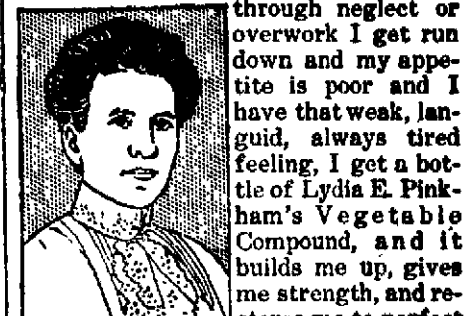

The rains certainly are making a great growth of vegetation, corn excepted. However we saw but one field of corn that was very weedy from lack of cultivation, quite a contrast to Northwestern Ohio, where there are many weedy corn fields because of much rain.

As the pike is finished from Zanesville to Mt. Sterling we concluded that the longest way round was the shorter way home, so we drove to Zanesville and then up the Newark road. Strange to say, we could tell when we crossed the county line. Wonderful how the crimson ramblers rose has ingratiated itself in to the hearts of the people. Nearly every farm house we passed has Swan Creek, Mich.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When through neglect or overwork I get run down and my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a great blessing to women, and I cannot speak too highly of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."—MRS. ANNIE CAMERON, R.F.D., No. 1, Swan Creek, Michigan.

Another Sufferer Relieved. Hebron, Mo.—"Before taking your remedies I was all run down, discouraged and had female weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and find today that I am an entirely new woman, ready and willing to do my household work, where before taking your medicine it was a dread. I try to impress upon the minds of all ailing women I meet the benefits they can derive from your medicines."—MRS. CHARLES ROWE, Kennesago, Maine.

its show of criminals and trained in every conceivable shape. In a yard in Hanover we noticed a clump of ramblers in front trained in bush form, as the side another trained to a rock, and still another trained up a tree and fifteen to twenty feet up the tree was a mass of crimson flowers. Mr. Ballou's orchard work consists in fertilizing one block of trees with acid phosphate, a second block adding potash to the acid phosphate and on a third block nitrate of soda is used. This fertilization was begun in 1909 and it has had a marvelous effect on the trees.

Three years ago when I first visited this work it was noticed that when acid phosphate alone or in combination with potash was applied there was much clover while on the plots to which nitrate of soda had been applied there was a greater growth of timothy, orchard grass and weeds but very little clover. We're making a better growth, darker colored and larger leaves. Today while this condition is still noticeable yet not in so marked a degree evidently the clover is getting in its work.

It is a question with us if this work had been started when the trees were first set out if the acid phosphate plots would not be equaling the nitrate plots at a less cost. It certainly will be interesting to watch this work as the years go by. This experiment is corroboration of the experiment at Rothamstead England, that the character of the herbage can be influenced by the kind of fertilizer applied.

The very efficient superintendent of this Porter orchard, Mr. Higbotham, has sprayed the trees well and on these fertilized plots there is promise of a lot of fancy grimes golden.

SMALL AMOUNT OF MONEY ORDERS. The money order department of the local postoffice wrote money orders to the amount of $27,000, during the month of June. This is an increase over the month of May of about $5,000. The Newark department remitted to Cincinnati $8,500. The outgoing foreign money orders fell off during the month of June, it being the smallest amount this year $900.

A THROW BY PEARCE GETS CHAPMAN

AND OLLIE IS PEEVED DURING GAME, DISCOUNTING THE FANS

Findlay Manager Pans Umpire and at End of Game Does His Part to Start General Fight.

Newark ball players Sunday showed good judgment when they succeeded in averting a fight following the defeat of the Findlay club by a score of 2 to 1. Manager Ollie Chapman, who disgusted the fans present, by his nasty talk and continual and unwarranted kicking, did his part to start a fight which would have given him his just deserts but would also have harmed the game which is already in bad enough repute. The prompt action of firstbaseman Reese and Secondbaseman Roubush kept Chapman and Umpire Taylor apart while other players handled the humored or more fans who swarmed upon the diamond at the first beligerent move on Chapman's part.

Chapman did more umpire bating than ball playing. In fact it was due to his own carelessness that he was caught out first by Pierce's throw in the first inning and he was so peeved during the rest of the game that no discussion rendered by Taylor suited the Findlay boss.

The disorganized state of league affairs, by which nearly all authority of umpires is removed prevents proper punishment being meted out to Chapman and his kind. A heavy fine and a suspension from the game would make such conduct unprofitable and would end it promptly.

Chapman realizes that the umpire is not backed up by any organization and he went to extremes never before reached by any ball player at Wehrle park.

But trouble was avoided, thanks to the wisdom and sportsmanship of the entire Newark club. Aside from this disagreeable feature, the game was one of unusual class.

Moore, ex-Chillicothe pitcher went the nine innings, allowing Findlay but three hits. One of these was on a fly ball which dropped in a triangle with Judge, Strawn and Roubush at the points. Any one of the three might have caught the ball—but they didn't. The hit caused no harm except to tarnish a mighty good record.

While Moore was dishing up this class of baseball Schultz, the Findlay hurler, was not far behind. He allowed but six hits and in only two innings, the second and fourth, were the hits bunched. Even in the second, Schultz tightened up with two men on and struck out Strawn and Blanchard, leaving Pearce and Judge on the bases.

But he lost sight of the plate in the fourth and two passes were issued after Pearce had hit safely and two men were out. With Pearce, Judge and Strawn on the cushions, Blanchard, who failed before in a pinch, drove a hit to left field which Werner had some trouble in fielding. Pearce and Judge romped home and Strawn, who tried to reach third, was caught by a good throw from Werner. The play retired the side but Newark had enough runs to win.

This game was full of high-class fielding. Not all of it was done by Newark men either. Werner and Costello both drew applause from the crowd when they fielded fly balls from Long's bat in the first and third.

On two occasions Strawn made exceedingly difficult running catches once in the fourth when he romped Werner's bid for a hit and again in the eighth when he took Chapman's fly. Judge starred at least twice once when he pulled down Blue's hard-hit grounder in the third, snatching the ball a bit and yet being able to throw out his man at first. The other was on a Pearce throw which retired Chapman at second on an attempted steal in the sixth inning. This was the particular decision which Chapman kicked on but Umpire Taylor was right on the play and in position to see what tool place.

Pearce's throwing has shown a vast improvement and his catching of Chapman at first in the first inning and at second in the sixth showed that there are a few good legs left in his wing yet. And to show that he was still good in the ninth he wound up the game with a double play.

Costello fanned with Werner on first and as quick as a flash, Bunny whipped the ball to first and Werner was caught easily. Bunny was well supported in his work by Judge and Reese.

Findlay scored in the first, before Moore settled down to business. Chapman walked and was caught off first. Blue walked and reached second, where Wratten fielding Werner's grounder, forced to Roubush. Roubush muffed the throw and Blue went on to third. Werner pilfered second to draw Pearce's throw which Roubush allowed to get away from him. Blue scored. Yockey and Costello were easy outs ending the inning. The only other dangerous inning was the eighth, when, with two out, McGivern walked and Block, batting for Schultz, hit to center field. Chapman came close to hitting safe but Strawn cut off the hit.

Newark's tallies came in the fourth. Roubush, first up was out. Breannahan to Chapman. Pearce singled to center. Reese rolled a ground ball to Chapman and was out. Judge and Strawn walked, filling the bases. Blanchard's hit hugged the left foul line sure and Pearce and Judge scored and Werner's throw retired Strawn at third. Long hit and stole second in the lithat, with one out but was unable to get any further. Reese singled to right and stole second on the sixth with one out but was left there.

MECHANICIAN IS KILLED WHEN TIRE BURSTS

Tacoma, July 5.—Paul Frazee, mechanic for William Carlson, a driver in the 250-mile Mountara-rath automobile race held on the Tacoma speedway yesterday, was killed and Carlson injured in an upset near the windup of the contest. Guy E. Ruckstell finished first with a time of 2:37. Earl Cooper was second and Eddie Pullen third. A tire blowout on a steep curve hurled Carlson's machine from the track. Franklin, thrown clear, struck a stump and his back was broken. He died soon afterward. Carlson's injuries are not regarded as dangerous.

Ruckstell, who averaged a little better than 84 miles an hour, led virtually all the way. He finished 1 minute and 5 seconds ahead of Cooper, twice winner of the contest, and who made a desperate effort to secure permanent possession of the trophy with a third victory. Pullen was only 5 1-5 seconds behind Cooper. Bob Burman was fourth and Barney Oldfield fifth.

This morning a 100-mile race will be staged on the speedway, and in the afternoon the Potlatch trophy, 200 miles, will be run off.

The ringside weights were: White 132 1-2; Welsh, 136 pounds. Both men agreed to weigh in at 135 pounds at 3 p. m. Ex-champion Jas. J. Corbett, writing for a newspaper syndicate gave Welsh the decision for being better than white in a single round.

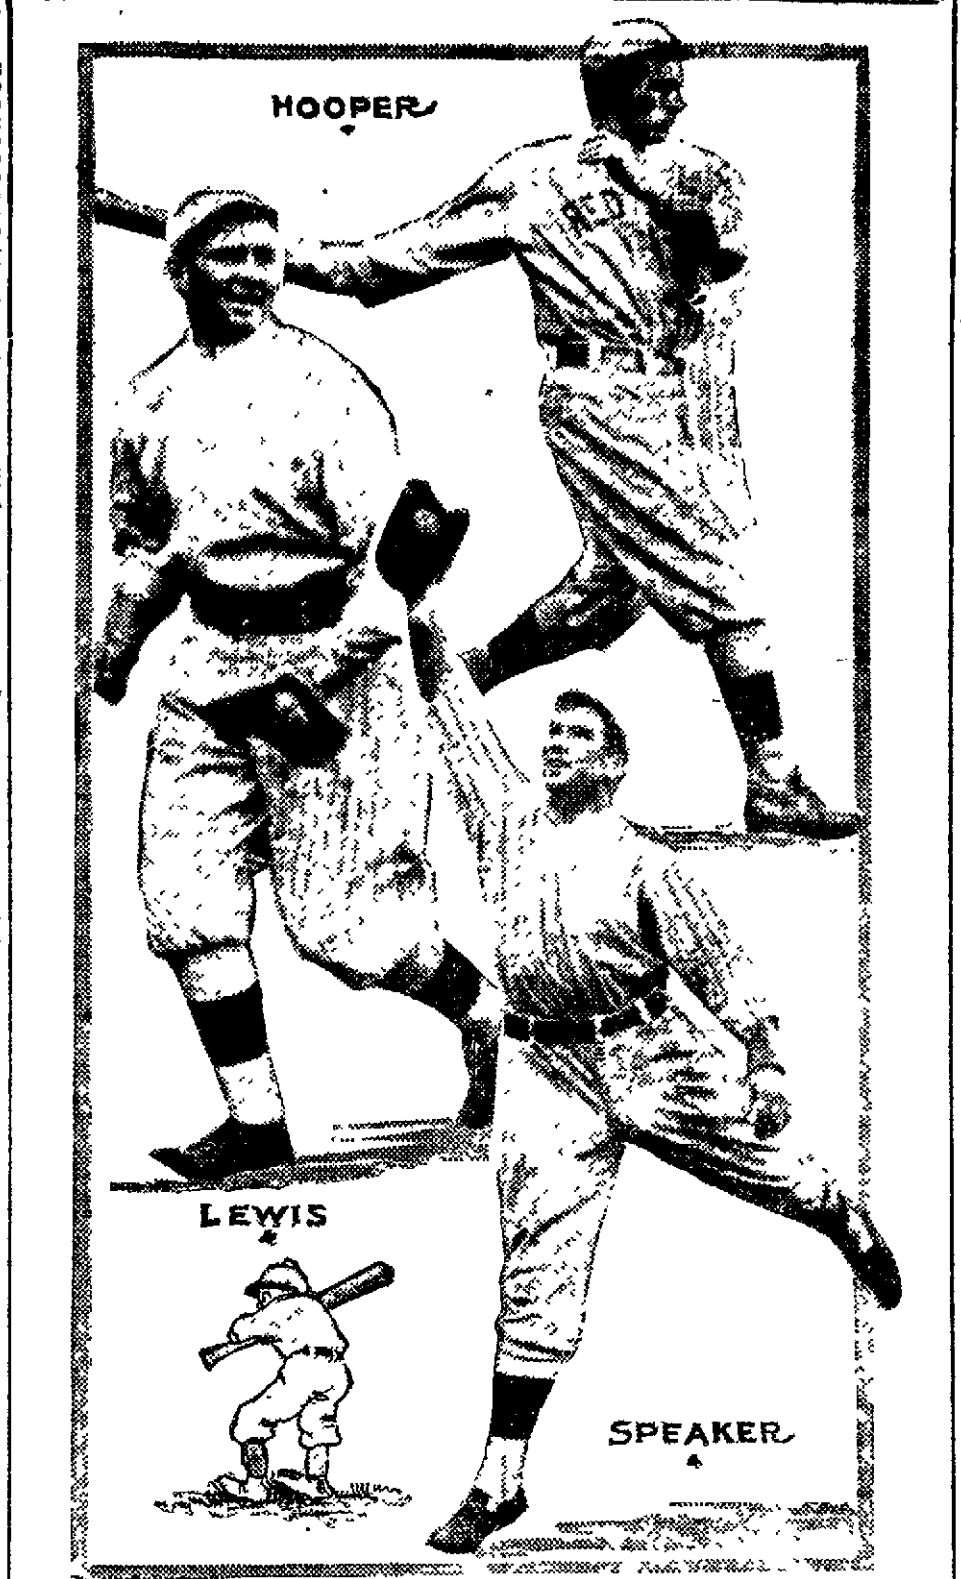

SOUTH END CUBS DEFEAT FRANKLIN TEAM ON SUNDAY

In a one sided game Sunday morning on the Jefferson street grounds, the South End Cubs defeated the Franklin Addition team by a score of 12 to 4. The game was featured by the hitting of the Cubs, the Franklin pitcher Beck, being pounded for 15 hits. The fielding of Hummel, Taylor and Morrison for the Cubs and Beck and Taylor for the Franklin were bright spots in the game. It was called at the end of the seventh by agreement. Score: Cubs 12 4 2 0 0 0 x—12 15 5. Franklin 0 1 0 1 0 1—4 9 6.

K. OF C. AND FOE IN A 23-INNING GAME SUNDAY

The Knights of Columbus, Sunday morning, started a game against the Athletics, which went over until the afternoon without a decision—twenty-three innings being played with the score remaining 2 to 2. It was called by agreement to allow the ground-keeper at Wehrle Park time to get the grounds in shape for the Findlay-Newark game in the afternoon. Bradley and Weller worked the entire game for the Knights, while Stevens and Jones worked for the Athletics. The knights went to Utica Monday morning for two games in that village as a holiday attraction.

CANOEISTS ARM CRAFT WITH A HAND TRAP

By A. P. Taylor.

When the warm days of spring and early summer coax the wanderlust back to life in the breasts of owners of the birch bark craft, something is sure to happen.

That something takes the form of a canoe trip in the case of a considerable number of men who love to dip their paddles in some sequestered stream, glide swiftly out of earshot of the hub-bub and rush of a metropolis and enjoy the freedom and healthfulness of the open country.

A large proportion of those who take these trips feel that to come away without a gun is to leave an important accessory of the luggage behind. Still they are not satisfied to merely shoot at stationary targets, and under the new game laws, hunting has been restricted, so that any new method of gratifying the natural desire to shoot meets with instant and enthusiastic approval when it supplies moving targets.

Hence the introduction of hand traps will meet the peculiar requirements of propellers of the birch bark as nothing else can. Weighing only six pounds and capable of folding into a compact bundle, the hand trap may be readily stowed under the thwart of the canoe, and upon landing is quickly and easily made ready to propel the "clays" with the speed of the wind or to lazily sail straightaway out over the stream. Any angle, from a right or left quartering "bird" to a dead straight one, and any distance up to 80 or 100 yards, with the "skimmer" upside down, on edge or in any other conceivable position, may be released from this portable trap capable of suiting the need of the most ardent "gun bug."

Trapshooting has formerly been impossible for the one who would combine the pleasures of canoeing with the thrills of smashing the elusive clay birds, but hereafter parties of canoeists will prolong their stay in camp in order to prove their skill at "killing" these "birds" ere they reach the opposite shore, and other parties paddling down stream will put just a little more ginger into their stroke that they may arrive in time for a team match.

JOHNSON WANTS ANOTHER FIGHT WITH WILLARD

New York, July 5.—While in New York, T. S. Andrews, the well-known sport writer, happened to meet Harry Frazee, who promoted the Willard-Johnson battle in Havana with Jack Curley, or rather supplied the wherewithal to pull it off, and was surprised to learn that Johnson has cabled over a challenge for a return fight with Jess, the same to be for $5000 a side and all the gate receipts. Mr. Frazee stated that as far as he was concerned he would accept the challenge and match Willard against Johnson in private for the side bet and all the money that might be taken in at the gate, as he was convinced Willard could beat Johnson again in half the time that it took him at Havana to win the title. The chances are that Jack is looking for some advertising at the expense of Big Jess. There is little chance of another match between them, for the very good reason that before the Havana contest Willard went on record as saying that he would never fight another black man, whether he won or lost with Johnson; that he considered he was meeting the best of all the colored fighters in Johnson (who was then champion) and that he would consider his mission to win back the title to the white race fulfilled. Under these conditions it is hard to figure out how Willard could accept such a challenge now, even if he wanted to. However, there are many who would never sanction another meeting with Johnson, but they would not object so much to a meeting with either Sam Langford, Sam McVey, or Joe Jeannette, a trio of colored boxers who have had the respect of the fans at all times. And getting down to cold turkey it must be admitted that Jack Johnson proved himself a better sport after the Havana fight than many of the whites. Jack's escapades outside the ring is what put him bad.

YEARLINGS AT THE LEXINGTON TRACK WILL BE BROKEN

Lexington, Ky., July 5.—Seven of the 14 yearlings which J. O. Keene brought to the Kentucky Association course Saturday to be broken and trained for next spring, are of his own breeding, and are owned in partnership with his brother, G. H. Keene.

Four of the others are the property of John W. Schorr, and among them is a full brother to John Gund, and which is an up-standing bay colt by Peep o' Day—My Gyps. Another is a bay colt by Peep o' Day—Eveline, both of these having been purchased from their breeder, John S. Darbee. The third is a chestnut colt by Ultima—Woodlance, and the fourth is a chestnut filly by Peter Quince which Mr. Schorr bought from Breckinridge Wiley.

The other three in the string are the property of F. A. Forsythe, and they are a brown colt, by Out of Reach—Balsane (dam of Balloch); bay gelding, by Dorante—Pepita; bay gelding, by Out of Reach—Stolen Moments.

W. T. Croeden is spending the Fourth with friends in Zanesville.

FINIS

Lima, July 5.—The last game in the Buckeye League will be played today with Akron at Lima and Findlay at Newark. This ends the first half of the season, and league leaders have decided to throw up the sponge. This will give Lima the pennant for the short season. Findlay probably will continue her team as an independent organization, as that city has the best backing in the entire league.

Discovering Errors.

Inefficiency on the part of the present state administration is now being evidenced in errors discovered in enactments of the general assembly and signed by the governor, which probably render those enactments null and void. Early after the adjournment of the long-drawn-out session, at a time when preparations should be under way for putting into effect the new laws, the question is raised about some of the major rippers as to whether or not they are really valid acts. In the case of the civil service ripper, which is designed to make a mock of the merit system ordered in the constitution by vote of the people, it is designed that the governor signed a bill different than that passed in the house, and that the house considered a different bill than that passed in the senate. The difference is in a single phrase, but of great moment; it exhibits a carelessness in law-making which threatens the entire act. Attorney-General Turner is trying to find authority for holding good the act, but a rule of the supreme court heretofore made in a similar case would indicate small hope.

Just as serious is an error in the state highway law which will at least make it difficult to sell highway bonds. By carelessness in construction it is made a law that bonds shall be sold which shall mature "ten years before the date of issue." Regardless of construction by the attorney-general, bond-buyers will hesitate to purchase highway bonds which might be made "mere scraps of paper" by an attack on them in the courts.

Doubtless other errors will be found in the multitudinous proceedings of the legislature, to add to the expense of its worthlessness. No wonder so many of its members are trying to get their next year's pay in advance. And worse than all else, oh! horrid thought, if this business keeps up, Willis may have a hard time getting back his job at Ada, at the close of his first and only term as governor.

Christian Endeavorers.

One of the big gatherings of July is to be the world's convention of Christian Endeavor Societies, booked for Chicago for July 7-12. Four million young people are members of the societies whose delegates gather for this meeting.

A hotel-keeper in one city where one of these conventions was held a few years ago was asked in advance what he could do toward accommodating the delegates. He replied off hand that he would take care of them all in his hotel. Afterward when 20,000 to 30,000 delegates begin to rain down on the town, he concluded he would need some cot beds if he was going to take the job.

The most remarkable thing about this society is the ease and harmony with which young people from all the Protestant denominations work the great empire had to exert itself to defeat the little South African republic.

1801—David Glasgow Farragut, naval hero, born; died 1870. Farragut was the son of a Spaniard who had fought in the Revolution.

The Germans despised the Belgians, but they have now great respect for the soldiers of that tiny nation. Since it has required every ounce of the allies' strength to hold the Germans back from Paris, it is probable the French and British could not have done it without the Belgians.

If the Boers and Belgians had the punch to stagger empires, the many times mightier United States would prove a foe not to be taken on lightly with the expectation of a mere training bout.

TAKE A LOOK
IF YOU HAVE TIME

What we look for in friends is congeniality, not character.

The difference between men and boys is that men are willing to wait until next year, while boys want it now.

Your objection to special privilege probably is based on the fact that you are not permitted to enjoy it.

A father often is his daughter's hero, but his wife knows him for what he is.

The wronged husband has his revenge when the man who alienated his wife's affections marries her.

A good wife is one who regards marriage as a co-partnership. A poor wife is one who looks upon it as a sinecure.

A small town is one in which those who have evening clothes refer to them as "dress suits."

If it were not for her mother's old-fashioned ways and lack of taste in dress a girl seldom would be humiliated.

Spirit of the Press

Troublesome Huerta.

This Mr. Huerta is certainly some person. The Department of State is considering the question of his extradition to Mexico, where Villa is waiting to put him to death for that double assassination. The Department of Justice is considering his punishment for violating the neutrality. The Department of War has ordered the American army to see that he does not spring across the border. The Department of Labor is considering his deportation to Spain as an undesirable alien. And the Department of the Executive, at Cornish, is considering how to lose him in the most expeditious way.—Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Chicago's Need.

One of the local police women is quoted as expressing regret that Chicago has no place in which to care for respectable but friendless girls who come to the city in the hope of making an honest living by their labor. She thinks it odd that, while there are many societies and organizations to reform and otherwise care for girls who have gone astray, there is no such organization to protect and support worthy young women who are strangers in Chicago while they are finding remunerative work to do.—Chicago News.

The Woman Physician.

Dr. S. Adolphus Knopf, of the New York Post-Graduate Medical School, the well-known authority on tuberculosis, take up the cudgels for the woman physician, replying to the rather belittling remarks of Dr. Cabot of Harvard, at the recent graduation of the Woman's Medical College of Philadelphia. It is from a high source that this assurance is given.

The woman who enters the medical profession with that enthusiasm, devotion and self-sacrifice characteristic of her sex will not only be of a great service to suffering mankind as her brother physician, but will rarely fail. She will be neither "disappointed nor dissatisfied," but will do her work as well as the rest of us.—Springfield Republican.

May Be Innocent.

Judge Ben Hill, of Georgia, complains of "fake detective" imported into the State in the interest of Frank, and says that newspapers, in the State and outside of it, have caricatured the Court of Georgia. But all his railing will not efface the fact that the Judge who tried Frank became convinced on his deathbed that there was reasonable doubt of the man's guilt; that a Justice of the United States Supreme Court expressed the same conviction, and that Governor Slaton granted a commutation because of his reasonable doubt of guilt. Judge Hill ought to be glad that his state has not on its hands the blood of a man who may have been innocent.—Philadelphia Record.

Not a Second Lusitania.

The British government has announced that the Armenian was an admiralty business. That acknowledgment removes its sinking by a submarine from the sphere of controversy between America and Germany.—Chicago Herald.

First Born as Poets.

Karl Parsons of the University of London says that first-born children are inferior mentally, morally and physically to brothers and sisters who follow them. This was a daring statement to make at the front door of the residence of England's King and in the capital of a country where first-borns became the peers of the realm.—Wichita Beacon.

Mere Man.

Man is not only of a few days and full of prunes, but he is an insignificant mutt at his wedding, his wife's parents are the heroes when the first baby comes, and after that his wife takes over his pay envelope every week.—Houston Post.

ANCESTRY.

Man's father was an ape, of rude, ungrainy shape, according to the chap who study human maps, and fossil teeth and ribs and things like those. Through woodlands dark and green, in ages pliocene, our fathers used to roam, and made the trees their home. When I feel gay and proud, above the common crowd, and walk with haughty tread, with badly swollen head, of facts like these I think, and then you see me shrink. I seem to catch a glimpse of long-tailed woodland imps, and from a phantom ape I hear these words escape: "Don't get too chesty, boy, your origin was low; your granpa, ages back, acquired the useful knack of going on two legs; but don't, the phantom begs, 'that claim to fame abuse—for so do kangaroos.' I had an ancient sire who twanged a famous lyre; another one, they say, was knighted, on a day; and on the Mayflower ship another made a trip. But when I faint would boast of a distinguished host upon my pedigree, a vision comes to me; my sires in ancient vales, a-swinging by their tails, or prone in grass-made huts, devouring cocoanuts. Clean Up!
Let smiling be your mission,
Grim, and do not be afraid,
For a sunny disposition
Casts old trouble in the shade.

The Wise Fool.
"It does not cost anything to be polite," observed the sage.
"It does when you are polite enough to applaud a bad singer and have to stand for an encore," corrected the fool.

Good Boy!
I know a brave one-legged man,
And he is hard to beat;
He always does the best he can
To get there with both feet.

Huh!
"I am dressed and out of my house by 5 o'clock every morning," bragged Smith.
"What is the idea?" asked Jones.
"What is the idea of what?" exclaimed Smith.

"What is the idea of being on the street at 5 in the morning?" asked Jones. "The saloons do not open until 6."

Sad.
Old oaken bucket, you are barred, from you we dare not drink,
Though once we praised you in poetic terms,
But modern hygiene has prevailed and we are taught to think
You are a deadly carrier of germs.

Considerate.
"We stand on our rights," announced the spokesman of the delegation of citizens that had called on the street railroad magnate to demand better street car service and sitting room.

"Well," replied the magnate, "you have my permission to stand on your lefts for awhile."

Fact.
It's hard to look
Ahead, you'll find,
When all your debts
Are far behind.

What this country needs is fewer orators and more listeners.

Luke McLuke Says:
Always try to remember that when you are laughing at a man behind his back there are a lot of men behind your back who are laughing at you.

The reason why father knows that Sherman was right when he remarked that "war is hell" is because father has to use safety pins to fasten the holes in the toes of his socks together while mother is at her club knitting feet warmers for the men in the trenches.

Every now and then in your wanderings you run into a man who gives you the impression that he is wearing long stockings, and a gauze undershirt with baby ribbon in it.

A plump princess with a frog face knows that every man in town has designs upon her if you will let her tell it, but a pretty girl keeps her mouth shut because she is ashamed to admit that about 500 men try to flirt with her every day.

If a man stays around the house all the time his wife has no use for him, and if he stays away from the house all the time she is as mad as a wet hen.

The man who can't take a joke is mighty quick to take offense.

Why is a girl with pretty little pink ears expected to cover them up with her hair and hide them? And why is the man who has a pair of airship planes growing on the sides of his face expected to keep his hair cut short so as to exaggerate nature's generosity?

A man may be a good judge of other things, but it isn't safe to let him make a ruling in the matter of his own importance.

A man will get mad if you call him a beary eyed monkey, and yet he will feel real proud if you tell him that his new baby looks just like him.

What's the use? If father goes out at night mother will nag him when he gets back because he doesn't take her out somewhere like other husbands take their wives. And if father stays home at night and offers to take her out somewhere mother will nag him because she doesn't want to go out and will nag him because she hasn't a lot of nice clothes to wear like other men's wives have.

Ring Out for Liberty!
The regret comes strong again with every recurring Independence Day that our country is still so far from the realization of true liberty and real justice. Side by side, for instance, with the good news that these fresh efforts are to be made for the welfare of our newcomers from other lands is the news that women will probably soon be put to work in our steel and iron mills. That is only one item in the long, sad list of economic wrongs that curse us. So many overworked, so many underpaid, so many underfed—so many deprived of that one thing to which every human being has a royal right—the chance to work!—The Christian Herald.

Natural Politician.
"What makes you think the baby is going to be a great politician?" asked the young mother anxiously. "I'll tell you," answered the young father confidently. "He can say more things that sound well and mean nothing at all than any kid I ever saw."—Stray Stories.

ANNUAL MEETING OF HETUCK CHAPTER

Hetuck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution gathered at the home of the regent, Mrs. William L. Prout in North Fifth street to take an auto ride to the cottage of Mrs. S. C. Priest, upon the heights south of the city, the occasion being the annual business meeting and picnic.

The hostess met her guests at the road and escorted them to the large porch where after a pleasant halt hour the business was opened by the singing of "America," followed by the Lord's prayer. The reports of the year as given by the several officers showed no slackening of interest in their work and were very satisfactory.

The communication from Mr. Kibler pertaining to the care and beautifying of the old cemetery lot in Sixth street created a lively discussion and enthusiasm for concerted effort to make it a spot beautiful that will do credit to the chapter and the city. Of this the public will hear more later.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Regent, Mrs. F. M. B. Windle
Vice Regent, Mrs. A. H. Rickert.
Secretary, Mrs. Walter Symons
Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Wayne Collier.
Treasurer, Mrs. Mary Miller
Registrar, Miss Anna Priest
Historian, Mrs. L. Bancroft Fant

After a pleasant social hour and a ramble through the grove appetizing refreshments were served in a semi-servant manner. The time for the return to the city came too soon but automobiles arrived at six o'clock and a most enjoyable day was brought to an agreeable close.

Messrs George Belt, Kirby Clem, Carl Clugish, Auriel Coffman, Lester Coyle, Dewey Bonar, John Pitzer, Earl Sprague, Paul Grove, Russell Warner, Cary Cullison and John Ryan. Mrs. D. K. Bird of North Main street, entertained very pleasantly Friday evening, at her home with a porch dance, honoring the Misses Elizabeth and Isabel Owen. The house and porch were very prettily decorated with flags and flowers. The evening was spent at cards and dancing. Among the fifty guests were: Mr. William McFadden of Fargo, N. D., and Messrs Edwin Stedem and Donald Vail of Newark.—Mr. Vernon Republican

Many events will feature the Fourth of July program arranged for the Moundbuilders Country Club today. Several committees are in charge and a variety of entertainment will be provided for the club members.

At 9 o'clock this morning the men's medal tournament was played and at 2 o'clock this afternoon a baseball game was played between the "Hookers," H. P. Scott, captain, and the "Sheers," W. C. Miller, captain, with Daniel Altshool as umpire. Little Miss Alice Sherwood Miller will unfurl the flag at the flag-raising, which will take place at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The flag was presented to the club by the president, Mr. J. J. Carroll.

This evening there will be dancing in the club house and a gorgeous display of fireworks has been arranged, and will be in charge of the following members of the committee: L. P. Franklin, chairman, C. S. Whipple, C. W. Miller and R. F. Kilpatrick.

Mr. and Mrs. William Priest handsomely entertained a number of guests at their hospitable home in the Welch Hills Sunday afternoon and evening. The afternoon was spent in social diversions and excellent music was furnished on a Columbia phonograph. The men of the party also tried their hand at pitching horseshoes and quoits. Later a part of them climbed Priest Hill, one of the highest points in the county and from which a splendid view of the surrounding country can be secured. A half dozen refused to make the ascent on account of the steep climb and Henry Schmidt wagged a new hat that Clem Clem would never reach the summit. Clem was successful however and will hereafter sport a new headgear.

At 5 o'clock a delicious luncheon was served, consisting of big platters of fried spring chicken, and everything else good that could be conceived by Mrs. Priest, who has a reputation of being one of the best cooks in the country. They were dishes after dishes of good things and every one was made to eat their fill. Mr. and Mrs. Priest are royal entertainers and the occasion will long be remembered.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. James Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vogelmeier, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dold, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Ott Vogelmeier, Mr. and Mrs. John Heuck, Mr. and Mrs. George Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Schaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brownfield, Harry Vogelmeier, Fritz Vogelmeier, Charles Vogelmeier, ex-Sheriff William Link, Dr. J. T. Lewis, Henry Schmidt and Harry D. Hale.

Misses Heen and Alice Mcneave of Cleveland, who are guests at the home of Mrs. J. C. Brennan in North Fifth street, attended a dancing party in Zanesville on Friday.

A number of Newark people are holding a family picnic at the O'Bannon farm east of the city today.

Why is the Sky Blue?

When a piece of iron is slowly heated in a flame it at first radiates heat, and as the frequency of the wave motions becomes greater it radiates light—first red rays, then yellow and finally, if the heat is very intense, a white light is emitted. The red rays are longer and of less frequency than the blue. When white light is passed through a prism the waves are acted upon and are separated. The red rays are diverted less from their previous direction than the violet. This is exemplified by light from a clear sky. Refracted by suspended particles in the air, the blue rays are diverted more than the others and give a blue appearance to the otherwise colorless clear sky.—Samuel S. Sadtler, S. B., in "Chemistry of Familiar Things"

Theft in Chile.

The Chilean masses have a bad name for larceny. In Chilean ports ship passengers are warned to lock their cabin doors, and loaded lighters have to be guarded at night. Chilean stokers will saw through the bulkhead into the vessel's hold, steal goods and hide them in the coal bunkers till the night after they arrive in port, when they find opportunity to lower them overboard to a confederate in a boat under cover of darkness. Harbor thieves will even cut a hole in the bow of a vessel and make off with boatloads of freight. The Germans of southern Chile have the worst opinion of Chilean honesty, and in Santiago I was bidden notice the high walls and grated windows of the houses of the better class.—Professor Edward Alsworth Ross in "South of Panama."

Bacon on Sea Power.

It was Francis Bacon, after the ships of England had destroyed "the invincible armada," who in a chapter entitled "Of the True Greatness of Kingdoms and Estates," proclaimed his idea that sea power is world power. He said:

"We see the great Effects of Battles by Sea. The Battle of Actium decided the Empire of the World. The Battle of Lepanto arrested the Greatness of the Turk. There be many Examples, where Sea-Fights have been fatal to the Warre: But this is, when Princes or States, have set up their Rest, upon the Battails. But thus much is certain: That hee who Commands the Sea, is at great Liberty, and may take as much, and as little of the Warre, as he will. Whereas those, that be strongest by land, are many times nevertheless in great Straights."

Macaulay and His Razors.

Macaulay was a self shaver—though not with a safety—and the woeful results are recorded in his biography. When he sailed for India and his chambers were cleared there were found between fifty and sixty strokes, hacked into strips and splinters, and innumerable razors in every stage of disrepair. At one time he hurt his hand and had to go to the barber. After the operation he asked the charge, "Oh, what ever you usually give the person who shaves you," was the answer. "In that case," said Macaulay, "I should give you a great gash on either cheek."—London Mirror.

Defining a Batman.

What is a batman? The term seems to be a military one. It apparently means the driver or manager of pack horses. A bat horse is a pack horse which carries officers' luggage. "Bat" is a pack saddle and, like so many military words, it is French. "There is a common French proverb, 'C'est la queue bat le blesse'—'That is where the saddle hurts,' or, as we say, 'where the shoe pinches'—Manchester Guardian

"Over the Wire"

(By Dorothy Clark)

Are you going to the races? . . . why no—come with me in the limousine. . . I'm going to wear a new afternoon dress—I know you will adore it. . . It's of pale grey voile—the bodice is made with a deep fichu of white organdie edged with little pleatings. . . the skirt is cut in scallops and has rows of ruffles, each edged with black velvet and is tied in around the waist with a black velvet ribbon. . . My dear, I've got the newest hat to wear with it. . . It has a rather large brim and instead of a crown, four old rose ribbons that meet on top and tie in a large bow—Isn't it novel? And it's so good looking. . . No—there is to be just you and me, Jack is coming out from the city and will join us there—and perhaps Tom. . . I said only perhaps. . . Be ready early then.

Governor Who Saved Frank On New Honeymoon.

Ex-Governor Slaton and Wife of Georgia

Ex-Governor Slaton of Georgia, who commuted the sentence of Leo M. Frank to life imprisonment, arrived in New York with Mrs. Slaton a few hours after his term of office in Georgia expired. The said they had come on a new honeymoon, since neither had had much time during the last fifteen years to take a rest.

"I would have felt like an ass-sure if I had allowed Frank to be executed," he said. "There is a grave doubt in my mind as to his guilt being established by legal and credible evidence and it was my duty to act as I did."

The mob that raised the outcry against the commutation of sentence did not consist of representative citizens of Georgia. They were the riff raff, the men and boys who are con-supported by their wives and mothers.

On the other hand, there are some excellent citizens who asked why I interfered with the mandates of a judge and jury. They appear to have forgotten that the constitution is the supreme law of the state and that its clear mandate to the conscience of the governor in a case of doubtful guilt supercedes the judgment of the court."

Governor Slaton said he did not know whether he would go back into politics. Certainly not if my freedom of opinion and expression is to be abridged. I am just old fashioned enough to say what I think," he added. The Senatorship? I might become a candidate if I were asked. This is three years off, and is hardly worth the thought of now. I am going back into the practice of law in Atlanta, where I have practiced at the bar for twenty eight years."

In Milady's Boudoir

Nothing adds more to the beauty of a person's hands than well kept nails. While it is almost impossible to improve the shape of the hand itself much can be done with the expenditure of a very little time and trouble to improve the shape of the nails. No matter how rough your work your hands and nails can be made and kept in good condition. With a little study and practice you can care for them yourself as well and almost as quickly as a professional manicure.

Your manicure outfit should include a sharp pair of scissors, a ivory cuticle knife, a handle of orange sticks, a bundle of emery boards and a little polishing powder. Before starting to treat the nails soak the fingers in a little warm soapy water. This is to soften the cuticle and make it more pliable. Next cut the nails if necessary following the shape of each finger, and cutting so that the tip of the finger and the top of the nail may be level. Long and pointed nails are unhygienic and should never be allowed on any hand.

When the cutting has been done take an orange stick and pass it gently under the skin at the base of each nail, raising it carefully so as to thoroughly loosen it. Great care must be taken not to bruise the skin in any way. When the cuticle has been thoroughly loosened press the skin back with the ivory nail trimmer until the pretty half moon is visible at the base of each nail.

Next comes the removal of any stains. To do this rub the nails lightly with a piece of lemon. Should any small pieces of skin adhere to the nail dip the orange stick in lemon juice and rub them. Lastly comes the polishing. For this smear a little of the powder over the nails and rub with a pad of chamois leather.

You should weigh the infant carefully each week on a correct standard scale to determine if its gain is what it should be. If properly fed unless there is some definite contraindication, a child should be bathed every morning in water adapted to its vitality never so cold as to cause blueness or cold extremities, or so hot as to prove injurious.

Every Day Etiquette

"Please tell me how to place spoons when soup, gelatine and coffee are to be served?" asked puzzled Mrs. Newlywed.

"You should place the coffee-spoon nearest the plate, the gelatine next and finally the soup spoon. They are all placed to the right of the plate," advised her mother.

"I have seen some envelopes with the address written on them on indented lines and so that each line is started directly under each other. Which is correct?" asked Bertha.

"Both are used a great deal at present," advised her sister.

SECURITY.

Within the year, the "unexpected" has happened many times over. These events ought to make men take stock of themselves and their affairs. For surely, one knows not what the day will bring forth. We have seen investments which were considered secure as a foundation for our declining years and for our families depreciate in value and in earning power to an extent that years will be required to build them up to the old basis.

In contrast to this almost general condition, a life insurance contract with a conservative company has continued to be worth one hundred cents on the dollar.

The Statement of The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of Newark, New Jersey, for 1914, is contained in another column of this issue. That Company stands foremost in accomplishments for its members, and the increased progress made last year indicates that the public realizes savings made in such company for themselves and for the family is a guarantee of relief from loss and from worry when a cycle of depreciation comes. It is security!

GEORGIA MOB SHOT TO DEATH THREE NEGROES

(Associated Press Telegram)
Macon, Ga., July 5.—Three negroes are known to have been shot to death by a mob last night near Round Oak and Wayside, two villages about thirty miles from here, and the authorities today began a search for others who are missing.

Telephone wires leading to the villages were cut last night and news of the lynchings did not become known here until early today when sheriff's deputies arrived with three negroes, who are being held in connection with the killing of Silas Turner, a young farmer whose death precipitated the outbreak of race feeling.

Turner went yesterday to the home of W. H. King, a negro near Round Oak, to collect a bill from one of several other negroes who were there. A dispute resulted during which the farmer was shot with a pistol. The negroes then fled.

Turner's body was found later by friends, who were searching for him. Plans were made to avenge his death and, according to the sheriff's deputies, fully five hundred persons composed the mob.

IS PRESENTED HANDSOME FOB BY EMPLOYEES

William Creedon, who a couple of weeks ago retired as manager of the Hotel Varden, Saturday night was presented with a handsome Elk tooth by the employees of the hotel. The presentation speech was made by Henry Salvini, chief clerk, and he became quite eloquent as he told of Mr. Creedon's excellent qualities and the high esteem in which he had always been held by the employees. Mr. Creedon for a time was almost overcome and was too choked up to talk but he finally recovered himself and made an excellent speech of acceptance and later did the honors by passing around a box of imported Floreanese.

BIG APPROPRIATION ORDINANCE TO COME BEFORE COUNCIL

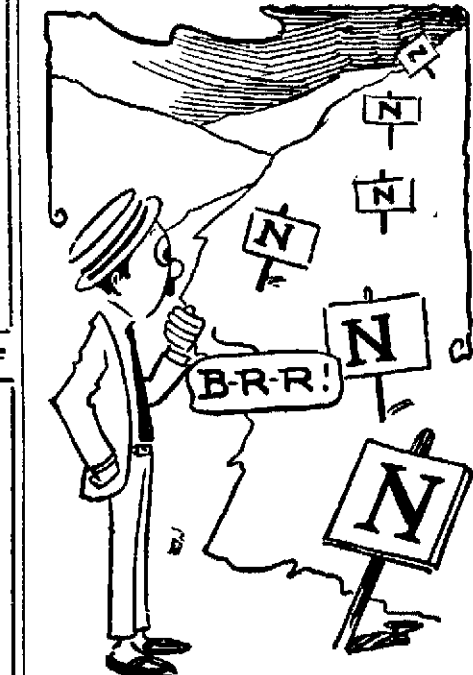

If business is transacted tonight by the city council, the semi-annual appropriation ordinance, setting aside funds for the last half of 1915, will be acted upon. It calls for an appropriation of about $150,000 which is about $16,000 more than usual. The extra money is to be used in retiring bonds. It is possible that council will not transact business tonight on account of the day being observed as a holiday. If adjournment is taken, a date, probably this week, will be selected. A number of other matters of business will come up for consideration when council transacts business.

A Lost Sea.
"One of the most curious experiences I ever had," says James Oliver Curwood, the author, "occurred on my first trip to James Bay, the southern portion of Hudson bay. We reached the bay just at sunset. It happened that I was the first to awaken in the morning, and when I crawled out of my tepee I gave a yell that roused the camp. The sea was gone! Not a sign of that vast grass grown dip in which it had been. My first thought, and a natural one, was that I was out of my head. Where had the sea gone? Had we really camped on its shore the night before? I strained my eyes, but could see nothing but that dip speckled with pools of water. I was in the company of a Hudson bay factor at the time, and I turned to find him laughing. Then the explanation came. At this point James bay was unusually shallow, and at low tide the sea dropped back seven miles! During the night it had actually left us seven miles inland."

Care of the Mouth.
The use of a tooth wash does not approach the conditions of a laboratory test, though there can be little doubt that a good deal of germicidal work in the mouth is done by the vigorous application of the toothbrush, and it may be pointed out that the tongue may well be included in the process. To be effective, however, the action of all antiseptics takes time, according to the vitality of the organisms they encounter, and usually the tooth brushing process does not occupy many seconds. This question of time exposure is important, but it is very generally overlooked and consequently the antiseptic treatment of the teeth falls short of that effectiveness which is shown to be the case in laboratory experiments. The tooth washing process should be more prolonged and the antiseptic wash allowed to remain in contact with the teeth and gums for some minutes instead of seconds before finally washing the mouth clear of antiseptic with plain water.—London Lancet.

GERMANS DENY RUSSIA'S REPORT OF SHIP'S LOSS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Berlin, via London, July 5.—The Russian report regarding the destruction of a vessel of the Deutschland class is untrue, according to a semi-official statement issued here. It also denied the German flag being running ashore on Swedish territory. The Russians are said to have fired fifteen hundred shots at the Albatross, of which only twenty-five were hits. An eyewitness of the naval battle asserts that nearly the entire stern of one Russian warship was shot away.

The Russian official statement issued yesterday said that a Russian submarine blew up on Friday a German warship of the Deutschland class which was steaming at the head of a German squadron at the entrance of the Baltic Bay.

The Deutschland is a battleship of 12,997 tons displacement, with a length of 430 feet and a beam of 72 feet. Her complement in times of peace is 729 men. The other battleships of the same class are the Schlesien, Schleswig-Holstein, Hanover and Pommern. The Deutschland was built in 1903.

There was a good crowd at Buckeye lake Sunday and all cottages were at a premium. Visitors were present from all over the state and a number of places out of the state. Quite a few people from Pittsburg have taken quarters at Buckeye lake for the summer. A number of "Cincinnati" are there for over the Fourth, quite a few having come Friday evening.

Saturday evening all interurban cars for the lake were crowded, many week end parties having been arranged. The cars Sunday were also crowded. The rain interfered somewhat with the pleasure seekers Sunday evening, but the cool, crisp weather of this morning indicates that the crowd today will be a large one.

The Buckeye Lake Yacht Club regatta will furnish plenty of amusement and sport today for an excellent program of water events, and racing has been arranged. This evening there will be a dance and supper at the club house. There will also undoubtedly be numerous displays of fireworks along the water front, by cottagers who are bound to observe Independence Day.

Arrangements have been made by Manager Will D. Harris and his able corps of assistants to take care of a large crowd. The concessionaries are also expecting a big business. The management at the Glass Hotel and pavilion has made arrangements to care for hundreds of visitors and everyone at the lake today is assured of an excellent time.

STATE DEPARTMENT ORDERS SCHOONER DETAINED IN PART

(Associated Press Telegram)
Seattle, Wash., July 5.—W. R. Bryan, special agent here of the department of justice, was in consultation today with the United States district attorney at the completion of an investigation of the case of the schooner Annie Larsen, which put into Hoquiam recently with a cargo of war munitions. Bryan said that W. R. Page, the super-cargo aboard, made conflicting statements regarding the schooner, that he refused to give his right name or the name of those whom he represented. Bryan would disclose none of the results of his investigation.

Orders have been received from Washington to hold the schooner until further orders.

The Grand Lodge will hold forth at next week and an elaborate program of entertainment has been arranged for the visitors. Both gentlemen will also attend the San Diego and Panama-Pacific expositions. At the latter place Mr. Scott will be the guest of S. A. Cuneo, secretary to the Ohio Exposition Commission, and who is also in charge of the Ohio building. He will see to it that "Scottie" gets to take in everything at the big expo and he has arranged quite a program of entertainment for his benefit. On the return trip Mr. Scott will stop in Minnesota to visit his mother and sisters.

FISH STORY OF CLASS, IS THIS, FROM THE EAST

The "fish story editor" of the Columbus Dispatch features the following narrative from Ulrichsville in the Sunday edition of that paper and while no affidavits accompany the story it is apparently printed as a fact. In the absence of proof to the contrary it may be accepted. At any rate it's a good one. Here it is:

Joe Meeks, a railroad man of Ulrichsville, was badly slashed and bitten by a savage 12-2 pound Chantauqua muskellunge last week, during a battle with the fish near Gnadentown on the Tuscarawas river. The monster measured 41 inches and was caught on a No. 2 hook attached to a ten cent line. Meeks was after catfish and had baited his hook with a fish-worm. A catfish seized the worm, and like a flash, the "muskie" dashed out and gobbled up the catfish. As it felt the hook, the great fish leaped three feet out of the water over some piling and churned about like mad. Fearing the loss of the "muskie," Meeks jumped into the water and in an instant the fish swam at him and seized his arm in its jaws, lacerating the flesh terribly, but he finally landed it. With C. C. Aton and others, they took it to New Philadelphia, where 1,000 people flocked to the court house square and viewed the big fellow. Then they went to Canal Dover and gave it to Postmaster Sereb, who had it cooked, and a big feast followed. P. R. Gray, J. M. Elliott, Postmaster O. G. Gray of Gnadentown, J. C. Butler, W. H. Schen, C. C. Aton and other leading on the "tiger" fish.

BLOODED STOCK OF EUROPE WILL COME FROM U. S.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, July 5.—America has been called upon to replenish Europe's stock of blooded cattle, it was announced today by the National Dairy Council, which made public plans for exporting stock at the close of the war. English Guernsey cows will be shipped to England, Dutch Friesians to Holland and Jersey cattle to the Isle of Jersey.

The National Dairy Council, an organization comprising the twenty-five branches of the American Dairy industry, will open permanent headquarters here and conduct campaigns for the future prevention of cattle plagues.

Crack of a Bullet.
That bullets neither whine, hiss, howl, hum nor whisper, novelists to the contrary notwithstanding, is information given by Edward C. Crossman in Outing. With one possible exception—when in certain conditions of open country modern military bullets hiss to those standing back of the firing line—nothing is audible except a sharp crash of air closing around the bullet's base when it travels at high speed. At a velocity of 1,500 feet a second, or more, the noise is "like nothing so much as a long and very violently cracked blacksnake whip." Those who stand far enough from the rifle hear the bullet's crack and later the dull, thudding noise of the rifle itself, which has been outspeeded. Jack London makes a soldier hit at 600 yard range first hear the sound of the modern rifle and then feel the blow of the bullet. But the bullet would have killed him half a second before the sound from the rifle reached him.

It is said that the residents of islands and small peninsulas live longer than persons who dwell on the mainland.

Chinese Names of Places.
Chinese names of places often define their character. Thus the terminal "yang" means fortress, Pingyang the "fortress of peace." "Cheng" means a "walled city." "Shan" is a mountain, "hai" the sea, "Kuan" a camp; thus Shangkuan is the "mountain sea camp." A "ling" is a mountain pass; Motienling, near Mukden, is the "heaven scraping pass."

The suffixes "tao" and "to" indicate islands; "po" or "pho," a harbor; "wan," a bay; "kiao" and "ho," a river; "kow," a port; "fu," a first class city; "ju," a provincial capital. "Pei" is north, "nan" is south, "king" is capital. These suffixes help to explain such familiar names in these days as Sanshan, Chienpho, Taitowan, Yangsekang, Hoangho, Yinkow, Chefu, Anju, Peking and Nanking.

Neapolitan Band Leader and Brilliant Company of Musicians Scheduled For Two Concerts on Fifth Day of Chautauqua

SIGNOR FRANCESCO FERULLO and his magnificent band, fresh from extended engagements in St. Louis, Cincinnati and other great American cities, is now on a tour of Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia and will appear here in afternoon and evening concerts on the fifth day of the Redpath Chautauqua. There will be an entire change of program, and the selections will be such as to appeal strongly to the great variety of music lovers. It has been said that this band has received more epigrammatic praise than any other musical organization that ever toured America. As compared with Ferullo's company of musicians the seven silver sirens are "not in it" according to the recent comment of a Milwaukee critic. He continues by declaring that "such magnificent harmony, such exquisite phrasing, such finished execution have never been known before." Music lovers of Chicago cannot find words sufficient to express their admiration for this organization. One of the musical critics of a Chicago morning paper remarking that London, Berlin, Paris or Vienna would envy Chicago in the possession of such a wonderful attraction. Ferullo is pre-eminently successful as a program builder, and there are to be plenty of "request" numbers by which the demands of Chautauqua audiences may be well anticipated.

dozen men at work in several different fields. The heavy rain of last night will cause the postponement of the cutting of thousands of acres for at least a couple of days.

Annual Camp.
Patrolman William Hinger and James Fitzgerald left Monday on their annual two weeks camp at Gibson Island at Buckeye Lake. These two gentlemen have camped two weeks of each year for the past six years. They spend the time at fishing and hunting and have made some splendid catches of black bass and smaller fry.

Declines to Run.
Rollin F. Williams, formerly of Newark, now a real estate man at Columbus, who entered the race for council at Columbus a few weeks ago, has announced his withdrawal, owing to a press of business duties.

Mr. Williams issued a statement, saying that he would not have time to prosecute his campaign and was, therefore, compelled to retire. Mr. Williams has been very successful as a real estate man in the Capital City.

At Central Church.
At the Central Church of Christ Sunday two large and appreciative audiences greeted Rev. H. Newton Miller and listened to two able and patriotic sermons on Americanizing the foreign and our rising generation. One important feature of the services was the patriotic songs of the choir. The Bible school in the morning was over thirteen per cent higher in members than it was one year ago.

Enlarging Arcade Hotel.
Dell Willey is making rapid progress on the thirty-five-room addition to the Arcade hotel. The second and third floors of the Fulton opera house building are being remodeled for this purpose. Every room is being fitted with private bath.

One Mail Delivery.
There was only one delivery of mail today by the city carriers. The rural carriers did not go out on their routes and the delivery window at the postoffice was kept open until 10 o'clock.

Serenaded Advocate.
The Buckeye Band before leaving for White Athletic field this morning stopped in front of the Advocate office and rendered a number of excellent selections which were greatly enjoyed by all the members of the Advocate force. The Buckeye band is one of the best musical organizations in the state and their concerts are always relished by those fortunate enough to hear them.

As a result of an automobile show held in Oporto, Portugal, in which several American cars were exhibited, it is thought that there will be a great demand for American made cars.

TORRENTS
OF RAIN FELL SUNDAY NIGHT ACCOMPANIED BY VIOLENT THUNDER STORM

Down Town Sewers Choked Up but Very Little Damage Has Been Reported.

Newark and vicinity was visited by a heavy rain storm Sunday which began about 6:30 o'clock and lasted until long after midnight. At times it came down at a terrific rate and was accompanied by thunder and lightning.

But little damage was done in the city except to choke up some of the down town sewers, which were not adequate to carry off the fast falling waters. Two creeks and Licking river also rose considerably during the night but the river was not out of banks Monday.

The damage to farm crops will be slight as it is thought that but very little hay has been ruined. Large fields of wheat, oats and corn were beaten out in some localities. In the lowlands many fields of corn were covered with water.

No trains on the Pennsylvania reached this city from either direction until early this morning. Train No. 27, west bound from Pittsburg, and trains 36 and 8 from Columbus detoured over the C. A. & C. via Orville, train No. 44 left Columbus arriving in this city at 4:15 this morning.

Many automobiles were parked near the Figure 8 at Buckeye Lake Sunday evening when the terrific rain storm flooded the ground and made it impossible to remove many of the cars. Not less than a dozen big machines remained there during the night. Several of the big cars sank in the ground to the hubs. It is said that the water in Buckeye Lake rose nearly five inches after the rain storm last night.

Matilda Hathaway.
Mrs. Henry Schimpf of 97 Grant street, received the sad news of the death of an aunt, Mrs. Matilda Hathaway of Columbus, O., who died July 4, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Annie Grable of 147 West Second avenue. The remains will be brought to Newark, Wednesday morning and funeral services will be held from the home of her niece, Mrs. Henry Schimpf of Grant street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery. Rev. P. H. Frye of the Neal Avenue Methodist church will be the officiating minister.

Redwood ties have been found to last 25 years in California street railway beds.

LIFE PRESERVERS HASTILY ADJUSTED, PREVENT A PANIC

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, July 5.—Life preservers were hastily adjusted to frightened women and children who formed the majority of the 2,000 passengers on the steamship Christopher Columbus when the boat, bound for Chicago from Milwaukee, caught fire thirty miles off this port last night, according to reports of passengers today. The first passenger to notice the fire which was confined to a wall in the saloon, shouted "Fire!" The ship's officers had considerable difficulty in restoring order, it was declared. The blaze was quickly extinguished with a small loss.

ALL MILWAUKEE SANG "AMERICA" AT 11 O'CLOCK.

At that hour church bells were to peal forth, all street traffic was to stop and citizens were to cease for a moment their usual activities and ponder in fealty to their country.

"Good Morning."
It is customary in most countries to say "Good morning" as a greeting even when it isn't true. But the Englishman says "Beastly morning" and it generally is.—New York Independent.

AMERICAN COLONY

IN BERLIN JOIN IN CELEBRATING THE 4TH.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Berlin, July 5.—Via London, July 5.—More than 200 members of Berlin's American colony met this afternoon for the annual celebration of the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. Instead of gathering at a suburban park as in former years, however, the Americans were the guests of Julius G. Lay, United States consul general and Mrs. Lay, who entertained them in the gardens connected with one of the city's hospitals.

The anonymous founder of the "World Association of Friends," who placed today upon the statue of Frederick the Great, wreath tied with the United States colors, surrounded with crepe, had extended through the newspapers to Americans of German descent an invitation to attend a rival gathering at the suburb of Grunau but there were very few who answered the call.

CHICAGO'S CELEBRATION.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, July 5.—Independence Day was not celebrated as such in Chicago today, but only as a day of rest. The large number of flags displayed and the unusual quiet were all that marked the occasion. There were no fireworks; no patriotic address of importance and no official program. The Americanization feature was ignored.

BRYAN STAR SPEAKER

AT EXPOSITION.

(Associated Press Telegram)
San Francisco, July 5.—An oration by William Jennings Bryan on "Universal Peace" was the feature of an elaborate program arranged for the third and concluding day's Independence celebration today at the Panama-Pacific exposition. Other speakers were Senator James D. Phelan, Congressman Julius Kahn and Edwin Markham, the poet. A big military pageant, athletic contests and a pyrotechnical display to-night were included in the list of special events.

FOREIGN EMPLOYEES

JOIN IN BIG PARADE.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Detroit, Mich., July 5.—A parade of 6,000 foreign-born employees of an automobile plant, and a reception on Belle Isle to other thousands of recently naturalized citizens were features of the program arranged for the Americanization day celebration in Detroit today. Among the speakers announcing for the island exercises were United States Senator William Alden Smith and Mayor Oscar B. Marx of Detroit.

MUNICIPAL FIELD MEET

OPEN TO ALL TOLEDO.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Toledo, O., July 5.—Approximately 100 athletes some of national reputation, will take part in a municipal free-to-the-public field meet here today. One of the feature events will be a 410 yard run between Meredith of Pennsylvania and Ted Souder, Cornell, long distance runner.

Steve Farrell, track coach of Michigan, will act as starter. Twenty events are on the program.

FLOWERS FOR OFFICER

Members of the Newark police force Sunday remembered their fellow officer, Patrolman Walter Boscowan, confined to the hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen received in the gun fight Friday morning with eggs, by sending a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers to his room. Mayor R. C. Dibebe was delegated to carry the good wishes of the department to the wounded man. The mayor was permitted only a minute's conversation with Officer Boscowan, but he found the man cheerful.

Theatres

The great photo-play, "The Eternal City," which is booked for the Auditorium theatre on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, matinee and evening, will be one of the best features ever brought to this city. Newark is one of the first Ohio cities to book of this stupendous attraction and it was brought here at a great expense. Since closing its long run at the Astor theatre in New York City it has packed the theatres in the big cities where it has been produced.

The Famous Players Film Co., the pioneer film producing company in the presentation of famous plays and celebrated stars in motion pictures, has during its entire existence made serious efforts to elevate and dignify the art of the silent drama. In presenting the photo-spectacle of "The Eternal City," the Famous Players Film Co. indicates the vast possibilities of the motion picture in visualizing the immortal works of literature and the drama.

LIBERTY BELL, PRIZED RELIC, STARTS TODAY

ON ITS JOURNEY FROM PHILADELPHIA TO THE SAN FRANCISCO EXHIBITION.

Will Travel on Specially-Built Steel Car—By Special Lighting Will Be Visible at Night.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Philadelphia, July 5.—Workmen began at sunrise today to remove the Liberty bell, one of America's most treasured relics, from its case in Independence Hall, for its journey to the Panama-Pacific exposition. After the case was removed, the bell was taken outside of the statehouse into Independence Square, where it was viewed by thousands of persons who had gathered for the Independence day exercises. Later the relic was to be taken to the West Philadelphia station of the Pennsylvania Railroad aboard a heavy automobile truck and hoisted on the specially-constructed gondola car which is to take it to the Pacific coast. The bell was to be escorted to the car by a pageant of military and naval forces, the guard of honor being the First Troop, Philadelphia City Cavalry. Other organizations in line were to include the First Brigade, Pennsylvania National Guard, a regiment of marines from the Philadelphia navy yard, and a battalion of sailors from the Atlantic reserve fleet.

The train, known as the Liberty Bell Special, and carrying a party of twenty-six concinnemen and their guests, was scheduled to start on its trip across the continent at 3 p. m. Special lighting arrangements have been provided on the car carrying the bell and it will be plainly visible even at night for a distance of a mile. Elaborate preparations for the reception of the famous relic have been made by many cities along the route.

NORTHERN OHIO IS INCLUDED IN THE LONG ITINERARY

rudely bandaged. This fact was duly reported to headquarters and instructions were given to guard the house and the sick man until a doctor could make an investigation for the department.

Dr. W. E. Boyer of Fourth and Church streets, was called. Upon removing the bandages he found three wounds. Two were made by the same ball, one where the ball entered and the other where it left the man's leg. The third wound plainly showed that the ball was still in the flesh. This fact was reported to headquarters and an ambulance was ordered to remove the man to the county jail. Here Dr. H. B. Anderson, the jail physician, and Dr. Boyer made a further examination and agreed that an X-ray examination of the leg should be made. Such an examination was ordered by Safety Director Carl Dayton.

So Athey made another trip. He was taken to Dr. Boyer's office and an X-ray picture made. It showed the doctors the location of the bullet. When the physicians made the first examination, they found the wounds crudely bandaged. A piece of a felt hat was found so closely over one of the wounds that it was partly within the hole made by the bullet. It was plainly evident that no surgeon had seen the wounds before Dr. Boyer reached the wounded man's side.

Following the X-ray examination Athey was again taken to the county jail and there he was placed under guard.

From the time the first officer addressed him, he has steadfastly refused to talk. He refused to offer any explanation whatever as to how he received the two bullets in his leg. He would answer no questions put to him.

His wounds were already badly inflamed when he was placed under arrest and blood poisoning surely would have developed had his condition not become known. He will be given every attention possible.

Sunday morning Drs. Anderson and Boyer performed an operation on Athey at the county jail to determine the extent of his injuries and to recover the bullet which was left in his leg. They found that the wounds were of such a nature as not to be serious, had they received care soon after the shooting. That they went on for more than 18 hours may result seriously. It is believed that the man will recover. The surgeons removed the bullet which remained in one of the wounds and it is being carefully preserved and will be used in evidence against the man. The cartridges with which Officer Boscowan's revolver were loaded, were of a peculiar make and easily distinguished from ordinary pistol or rifle ammunition.

It was a mystery to the police officers how the five shots from Boscowan's pistol failed to hit either of the two men in the small office where the shooting occurred. Now they wonder why Athey, if he was wounded by the officer, was able to escape so quickly from the place, and why he made no outcry when he was hit.

With Athey the police arrested his brother-in-law, Wilbur Sorrell, who is being held for investigation, and may be charged with being an accomplice. In the arrest of Athey Police Chief Sheridan believes that his department has landed the leader of the gang which has been doing numerous jobs of burglary and safe blowing about the city for the last three or four months. He is satisfied that Athey and his two companions were the men who a week ago Saturday entered the home of Mrs. S. H. McCleery in Tenth street, and who were surprised while at work when Mrs. McCleery and daughter, Mrs. Bragg, returned home about 9 o'clock. He does not believe, however, that the same trio went through the home of Karl Reinhold in East Newark. He thinks this was the work of hobos.

Athey has been in trouble before. He has served a sentence at the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster and another sentence in the Mansfield reformatory.

A few years ago he was arrested in South Fourth street while attempting to sell a new suit of clothes. The label on the coat showed that it came from a store in a town in the western part of the state. He and his companion, a man named Stephens, arrested at the same time, were convicted for burglarizing this store and sent to Mansfield.

The investigation of Athey's connection with the present case has not been closed. The police are continuing their work and other new developments are looked for.

The Zanesville suspects, arrested Friday for the Newark police department, were released from custody following the visit of Police Captain Hager and two Newark men who saw the two men walking down the railroad track early Friday morning about the time of the shooting. The Newark men declared that the pair under arrest were not the track walkers they saw, and the men were ordered released.

ENDOWMENT

FOR MAINTAINING SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK IN OHIO INDORSED BY WILLIS

In a Letter to the State Association in Which He Lauds Its Efforts to Evangelize.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, O., July 5.—Governor Frank B. Willis has written the following letter to the Ohio Sunday School Association:
"I am in receipt of your letter touching the project of the Ohio Sunday School Association to raise a $100,000 sustaining fund for the maintenance of Sunday school work of the state. I am bound to say that the project appeals to me because an endowment is a sensible business way in which to provide for philanthropic work in order that such work may be continuous and effective in its operations.

"The fund contributed by Ohio's sons and daughters in this movement will aid years hence in the worthy task of evangelization. The Sunday school, the church, and the public school are the mighty constructive forces of the world today. The project for a permanent endowment for the Sunday school association seems to me commendable in every way and is a most worthy movement.

"Let us remember there is a patriotism for the welfare of our fellow-men."

To Create a Vacuum.

If you have ever worked in a physical laboratory you probably have seen a vacuum receiver and learned how difficult it is to create a perfect vacuum even with this instrument.

A vacuum can be created in a single way by using two drinking glasses, a small candle end and a piece of blotting paper. The glasses must be the same size and of the thin glass kind. The candle end is lighted and put into one glass, the blotting paper is well dampened and placed on top of the glass, the other glass inverted and its rim placed exactly over the lower one and pressed down tightly. The candle will burn up all the oxygen in the glass and go out.

The air in the glass, being heated, will expand, and some of it will be forced out from under the moist paper; then as the portion remaining cools it will contract and draw the upper glass on the paper and create an air tight joint. The upper glass can be taken up and the lower will cling to it.—Kansas City Journal.

His Yallerweed.

Many persons are under the impression that America has few, if any, native plants worthy of cultivation in the home garden. They have been accustomed to look upon them as weeds and wild things, and so unfamiliar are they with native flowers that they fail to recognize them when they meet them outside their native haunts. A writer tells how he transplanted a stalk of goldenrod from a fence corner in the pasture to a place in his garden. It flourished luxuriantly and sent up many stalks as high as a man's head, each crowned with a great plume of brilliant flowers. A neighbor was attracted by the beauty of the plant and declared it must have cost its owner some dollars. When told, however, that numbers of the same plant were flourishing behind his barn he exclaimed: "What! You mean to tell me it's yallerweed!" And he went away with the air of one who had been imposed upon.—Country Gentleman.

Japan First With Japanese.

Every Japanese is a Japanese first, whatever else he may be second. In this unified patriotism they are incomparable. It extends even to the minor affairs of life. There is no Japanese, of high or low degree, who will admit any fault of his country to a foreigner, however strict his censure may be when talking to his friends. If there are faults the Japanese conceal them. They never volunteer any information as to drawbacks, and they always have an excuse for failures. No condition can arise in Japan whereby a foreigner can learn from a Japanese of anything to the detriment of the country. The statesmen will not tell you anything. The coolies will not tell you anything. They are units of concealment. They put the good face on everything. It is Japan first with them, Japan first always, and always a super-Japan.—Samuel G. Blythe in Saturday Evening Post.

Whale Curiosities.

Little is really known about his whaleship. This is surprising, considering he is such an interesting subject. The blue or sulphur bottom whale is the largest animal living today. Specimens have measured eighty-seven feet in length, which in all probability weighed about seventy-five tons. Oddly enough, although the mouth will permit twelve men to stand in it the throat is only nine inches in diameter. These particular whales feed on minute shrimps—about three-quarters of an inch in length—and they probably never touch fish while they can obtain these. From the inside of one of these whales five barrels of shrimps were taken. The sperm whale possesses spermaceti in liquid form in the upper portion of its head. From one of these whales twenty barrels of spermaceti were taken out of the "case." This same type of whale also yields ambergris, that valuable substance used so extensively in the manufacture of our best perfumes.
